

THE GREAT TURNING
OF THE WHEEL OF

---

The pain and sorrow of human life are the guarantors of progress. Only when conditions seem beyond control is the average person galvanized to consider change. Only when suffering is extreme does the human heart reach out to a higher force. Otherwise, there is no impelling force for progress on the Path.

When extreme darkness shrouds the land, light is sought by the masses of women and men. Absent that darkness, people would remain focused on narrow self-interests, the way of the human race up to the present.

The darker the sky, the greater the need for inner light. Coming storms can be heard in the thunderclaps that precede them and because of that, God is coming alive again in the human soul. A transcendent dimension of consciousness has broken through the circumference of the concrete mind.

The sound breaking forth 'from the heavens' augurs the appearance of Higher Forces on earth. The era of the Soul has begun. The dense outer layer of Earth life has fulfilled its purpose in the evolutionary scheme.

Countless thousands of souls are aware of the great turning of the Planetary Logos toward its neighbours in the solar system and the wider Universe. At the appointed time, a huge influx of cosmic energies will sweep through the planetary field and turn darkness into light. To know that everything is aligned with Divine Purpose, and for Divine Purpose, is to hear the voice of Peace descending over snowcapped mountains into the valleys, like the waters of melting glaciers. Spirit is the new water of life, filling the cracks and crevices of the mind with the Light of a new age. This is the season of the mythic phoenix arising from its ashes as the Soul arises from its heavy physical form.

The merging of principles of consciousness with principles of modern physics yields the picture of a world governed by vibrations, resonances, frequencies and oscillations. By the principles of vibratory resonance, seekers of spiritual light will inherit the new Earth. If 'the righteous' are seen as those who seek the light of truth, ancient prophecies will be fulfilled.

The Soul is a vortex of light that operates under similar principles to physical light, but at a subtler valence of consciousness. To vibrate with a certain band of frequencies is to be in its sphere of resonance. This occurs by an act of the will to transcend the limits of the material dimension and attune to the spiritual.

Think of the light of the Sun shining upon a lake, turning currents of water into diamonds of light. Now visualize that light changing the water's composition. When the subtler rays of the Sun fill the earth with their substance, the whole will be revealed as the work of Divinity drawing light unto Itself -- evoking light from within the myriad forms and irradiating them with greater light.

Eventually, as the light of the human soul is irradiated by the light of pure Spirit, you will see the Light of God and know that Divine Will is the fulcrum upon which life depends.
